THE DAILY MEMPHIS AVALANCHE.

By Gallaway, Hampton & Co. | MEMPHIS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1867. | (Volume Nine—Number 204

THE DAILY AVALANCHE

Brownlow is preparing his inaugural.

Russia has sent to the United States for 100,000 Berdan rifles.

The woman drowned at Akron, Indiana, Saturday morning, is supposed to have been Mrs. Mary Burton. The name is on her satchel.

A vessel is soon to be sent from San Francisco to Borneo, loaded with flour and stores. That island is now chiefly under the control of Americans.

Returns received at the Statistical Bureau show 667,137,570 pounds cotton, including Sea Island exported for the year ending June 30. Value, $202,807,910.

An official investigation developes the existence of armed secret negro organizations throughout the State of Virginia, and much alarm is felt in consequence by whites.

Mike McCoole has delayed his departure from St. Louis for Cincinnati until the middle of the week. Betting on the forthcoming mill still continues in Mike's favor.

Monday night, some villian entered the residence of Dr. Van Studevant, at St. Louis, and stole therefrom the skull of the murderer, McDaniel, hung there more than twenty years ago.

It was agreed at Salzburg that Maximilian's body be demanded from the Mexicans both by Austria and France, and that French and Austrian citizens in Mexico be protected at all hazards.

Mr. Washburne, General Grant's evil genius, who has been in Washington for several days with General Grant, freely declared that the latter is thoroughly opposed to the President in the course he is pursuing.

The cholera is ravaging the country south of Kansas. Thirty-seven per cent of the population of Fort Gibson have died, and sixty soldiers and seventy-five Indians at Fort Arbuckle have succumbed to the scourge.

The losses by the conflagration of the Cincinnati railroad machine shop, at Lafayette, Indiana, are now estimated at fully two hundred thousand dollars. Four locomotives and the best stationary engine in Indiana were destroyed.

The Journal de Liege contradicts the statement of the Journal de Paris as to the Empress Carlotta having been informed of the death of her husband in Mexico, and states that her Majesty is still entirely ignorant of her sad bereavement.

Robert J. Palmer was shot in an altercation with a man named Kellogg, at Plattsmouth, Kansas, on the 23d, and died there on the 24th. Kellogg is in jail. The cause of the quarrel was jealousy. Palmer leaves a wife and four children.

Mr. H. H. Meloon, Register of Conveyances at New Orleans, died suddenly on Tuesday. The Times says there were twelve petitions in circulation, addressed to Governor Flanders, for the successorship before the late incumbent was buried.

The Odessa Messenger states that a Jewish merchant of that city, M. Brodsky, has given a house worth $100,000 for the establishment of a public school. The Jews of that city have always distinguished themselves in the promotion of public instruction.

The functions of Colonel Bonfoi, Internal Revenue Collector, who murdered Colonel Fowler of Jefferson, Texas, have been suspended, and a successor will be appointed to take charge of the office. Bonfoi was a Northern man, but had resided a long time in the South.

A woman living with a gambler named Irwin, shot a man Monday, at Ellsworth, Kansas, by the name of Melville Moley, from Bath, Maine. He met a friend in front of her door, when she ordered them to leave, and they not paying any attention to it, she fired at him. He is likely to die, and his friends are ready to lynch her.

Aaron Jones took a benefit at Mozart, Hall, Cincinnati, Tuesday night, with $1,500 net realized. Jones dressed in white, and looked well. He was presented with his colors, and responded. He had a set-to with Jerry Donovan, one of his seconds, on which occasion he handled his left as well as his right, and hit oftener with it.

General Griffin, commanding in Texas, is fixing to encourage the negroes to swindle their employers. He has issued an order saying: "Accounts against freedmen will not be allowed to constitute a lien upon their portion of the crop. They must receive the productions of their labor according to the just wording of the contracts, and be permitted to sell the same in market to the best advantage."

The Augusta Constitutionalist learns from a responsible source that General Pope, in conversation with two prominent office holders from Savannah violently denounced the editor of the Savannah Republican, and suggested the possibility and propriety of his banishment. So we go. Even an ex-Federal officer of the army, and a staunch Radical, is not permitted to differ with the Radical party without incurring the displeasure of Pope.

Captain Ames, who had a fight with a huge body of Indians on Republican river a few days ago, arrived at Fort Hays Tuesday. He reports losing three men killed, thirty-five wounded and forty horses. The Indian loss is reported at about one hundred and fifty. After the battle was over the savages sent in a flag of truce with the following message: "Tell your officers we do not want peace. We are for war. We shall keep on fighting." They then charged our troops again.

General M. V. Gomez, of the Mexican army, writes to General J. J. Reynolds denouncing the Escobedo "terror the order of the day" letter to be a forgery. He says: "General, the document said to have been written to me by General Escobedo, and which commences with these words, 'the exaction of the traitors,' and concludes with 'God and liberty,' all contained in the said supposed letter, is nothing more nor less than a continuation of falsehoods raised against the said General Escobedo and the undersigned, and you are hereby authorized to affirm as much to whom it may concern."

The Washington correspondent of the Missouri Republican telegraphs that the dissolution of the Cabinet is close at hand. Every member but Attorney General Stanbery has intimated his willingness to the President to tender his resignation, and will formally write it out the moment informed that it is desired. Postmaster General Randall has already written his, and will probably hand it to the President to-morrow, if solicited. So far as the Executive views can be learned, the resignations of Secretaries Browning, Seward, Wells and Randall will be accepted from time to time, as their successors are determined on. Attorney General Stanbery and Secretary McCulloch will be requested to remain.

The Deauville, France (August 19), correspondence of Galignani's Messenger, says: "The race week has been most successful and productive, the crowd being unusually great, with a considerable number of visitors from England. The race for the cup for 20,000f and an object of art worth 7,500f excited great interest, and the remark was generally made that Count de Lagrange was rarely seen more gratified than when Mongoubert came in first. That horse, it appears, is his great favorite. The same stable also, as without doubt you are aware, gained the imperial prize of 4,000f with Favorite, and a free handicap of 3,000f with Montagnard, a very promising three year old colt.

THE TALENT OF DISSOLUTION OF THE CABINET.

Secretary Seward Asked to Resign.

From the New York Intelligencer, August 24.

There is one gentleman of distinguished ability and eminent public services, whose name has been unfortunately more or less identified with the ominous Secretary of War. To his influence with Mr. Lincoln, whether unjustly or not, the public largely attributed Mr. Stanton's retention in office. In most of the struggles which took place in that Cabinet they heartily co-operated. Public rumor has attributed to them a greater closeness of relationship in the present Administration—whether justly or unjustly does not affect the real merits of the question. Unfortunately, too, several circumstances have corroborated that suspicion, for several of the strongest friends of that distinguished Secretary of State have been the sturdy champions of the Secretary of War. The Idea Acheter of the former, who controlled the political fortunes of the Empire State for years, and has displayed a political sagacity, a varied ability and a consummate tact, that has not, perhaps, been surpassed in the history of that State, has on all occasions defended the defunct Cabinet Minister. His echo, who follows afar off his great exemplar, the trimming editor of the Times, has energetically come to his rescue. To the exertion of these three gentlemen, more than to any and all other causes, is the fact due that Mr. Johnson so long delayed meting out justice to his refractory subord nate. The association has damaged Mr. Seward's usefulness. We are certainly not among those who deny his exalted ability, his unflinching patriotism, or his great service to his country. We think that he will live in the future pages of its history, long after the petty crowd of his detractors shall have sunk out of sight, and be utterly forgotten. But there are times, when the only question a patriotic man should ask is: How can I best advance the interests of my country by harmonizing all the friends of constitutional government? The associations of which we have spoken, will prevent that unity of support among the friends of the Administration, which, in our judgment, are indispensable to its success. Under such circumstances, it is believed that no true friend of the Secretary could object to his retirement from the office he has filled with so much ability, and with such honor to himself and the country. But this topic of the unity of the administration opens up too wide a field for present discussion, and we must, therefore, leave it for further comment till to-morrow.

SHERIDAN AND ROUSSEAU.

The "Sudden Departure"—A Sharp Card from General Rousseau.

From the New York Tribune.

SIR: Your special Washington correspondent of yesterday telegraphs:

"It is said, on good authority, that Sheridan had made out an order for the arrest and trial before a military commission of Generals Steedman and Rousseau, for impeding reconstruction. The law gives him that power. Rousseau and Steedman suddenly left New Orleans, and the arrest was thus prevented."

That General Sheridan made out an order for the arrest of General Steedman and myself may be true, but I neither know nor do I believe it to be true. The insinuation in the above paragraph that Generals Steedman and Rousseau "suddenly left New Orleans to avoid arrest," is simply malicious, if not a malignant invention, and in addition is either a very credulous and simple, or else a very artful or reckless fabricator. As your correspondent shields himself behind the words "it is said, on good authority," he is supposed to be no further responsible in the premises than any other journalist in his particular department. But as, perhaps, it will not do to let the statement go uncontradicted, I am rather forced into the annoyance of this reply.

Let me tell you, Mr. Editor, that General Sheridan knew perfectly well, and from my own lips, the day and the hour of the day of my departure from New Orleans, and so had full opportunity to enforce an arrest, if, indeed, he designed one.

Perhaps it is well enough to add, as a fact within my knowledge, that General Steedman, who was to have left New Orleans with me, was detained in that city for several days after my departure by the serious illness of a nephew. I have not heard that any effort was made to arrest him.

It is not the habit of either General Steedman or myself to "depart suddenly."

Yours, very respectfully,

LOVELL H. ROUSSEAU.

ST. JAMES HOTEL, NEW YORK, Aug. 22, 1867.

STILL ANOTHER SUICIDE.

A Young Widow, Once of Memphis, Poisons Herself.

From the St. Louis Democrat, August 21.)

Miss Amanda Hamner, a young lady of slender form and fair proportions, died yesterday under the following circumstances: Yesterday evening Dr. P. S. O'Reilly was called on by a servant to come immediately to Mrs. Templeton's, on Morgan street, between Eighth and Ninth, to see Miss Minnie, who had taken a fit. The doctor repaired to the house, and found the young lady lying prostrate and in a depressed condition, on a bed. He examined her, and expressed his belief that she was poisoned with prussic acid. The family replied that there was not such poison in the house, and that she had not been out of the house the whole day. The doctor said she would be dead in a few minutes, but advised them to send for the family physician, Doctor Barnes, who came in a few minutes infinibus mortis, and in a moment after she expired. She was a handsome young widow of twenty summers, born in Cincinnati, and married in Memphis when she was seventeen years of age. Her husband died in Louisville a year after, since which time she has lived with her mother, Mrs. Templeton, who now resides on Morgan, between Eighth and Ninth. Her step-father returned in the morning from Vicksburg, where he has been carrying on business as a photographer. She was the first to receive him as he approached the house with open arms, having always been his favorite.

The only cause for the rash act (if it be a suicide) is on account of the severe illness of her mother. Just before dinner she seemed downcast. She ate her dinner as cheerfully as usual, and retired up stairs. In the course of fifteen minutes, the servant went up and found her on the bed in an insensible condition, and thinking she had a fit, called the doctor. No traces of poison could be found in the room, or on her person. After her death her father looked over one of his boxes that he had chemicals in, and found that a bottle containing cyanuride of potassium was disturbed. This drug acts the same as prussic acid, and requires the same treatment.

NAUGHTY PHIL.

How he Came to be Excommunicated

From the Freeman's Journal (Catholic.)

Our attention has been drawn to a paragraph in the Herald and Vindicator, a weekly paper in Philadelphia, of recent date, which, in a leading article, refers to a suggestion made by the Boston Pilot of the name of Phil. Sheridan, as a candidate for the Presidency. The Philadelphia paper puts on 'umble airs, and says it will not do for an Irish paper to propose an Irish-American Catholic for President. If that is all that is the matter, General Phil. Sheridan can get a clean or dirty "bill of health!" It is true he is of Irish Catholic parentage. We have heard that he was once in the Dominican College in Ohio as a student. If so, he is the poorest specimen of handiwork that we have known the Dominicans to turn out. We have been assured that he is a Free Mason. If so, and if the lodge he belongs to is in good standing, it would certainly and of necessity expel him, were some of his doings in the Valley of Virginia to be brought to mind—that is, except Free Masonry is as much altered as "Methodists North" have been.

If Phil. Sheridan wants to run as Radical candidate for President, we can be of no service to him. We can get him certificates of eso facto excommunication by the Catholic Church. Free Masonry is badly run down from what it used to be among American Masons if he cannot get the same certificate from that religion—if they ever had the misfortune of having him among them.

If Phil. Sheridan wants a through ticket—provided he is excommunicated from the Catholic Church—and is reserved case at that, he can apply at our office, and we will make out his papers for him. The memory of what he did to the devoted Father Sheeran, who came to Texas with proper permission, to care for the dying soldiers of both armies, will haunt Phil. Sheridan on his death bed, and a great deal lower down, except he has the grace to get relieved from the terrible penalties he has incurred, and which it is not every priest that can absolve him from.

If Phil. Sheridan is not a fool he had better hunt up Father Sheeran, in New Orleans, and see if the good father has, or can obtain, the power of absolving him.

THE CELEBRATED QUANTRELL CERTAINLY DEAD.

His Remains Buried in Louisville.

LEXINGTON, KY., August 15, 1867.

To the Editors of the Enquirer:

In your paper of yesterday you say that Quantrell, the ex-guerrilla, is in Mexico, in the commission business, under the assumed name of Samuel Anderson. This is a mistake. Quantrell and forty men came to Kentucky in the fall of '64. He was mortally wounded in a fight, captured and taken to Louisville, and there died in prison under an assumed name. General Joe Shelby thought he was killed and buried in Woodford county, until I told him different. I was in prison with two of his men.

From the Louisville Courier, August 21.)

The above is from the late number of the Cincinnati Enquirer, and we are of opinion that the writer is correct in his statement. We have evidence satisfactory to our mind that the man who was shot and captured near Bloomfield, in 1865, by Terrill's gang, brought to Louisville, and died in prison here, was W. C. Quantrell, the daring border chieftan and leader of the celebrated force on Lawrence, Kansas. The wounds he received in the fight near Bloomfield were by no means mortal, but no doubt hastened his death. At the time he was wounded he was in bad health, having been for some months suffering with disease of the lungs, contracted by exposure to all sorts of weather on the frontiers. He was attended in his last hours by a Catholic clergyman, from whom he received the holy sacraments, and his death was tranquil and painless. He was decently buried in the lower part of the city, and his grave so marked as to be identified in the future, if necessary. At the time of his death no one except the attending priest and a few friends knew that the prisoner was the notorious partizan of the (so called) Missouri bushwhackers.

THE CONSPIRACY PROGRESSING

To a Dying Devil From one of his Imps.

The following letter has been gotten hold of and is going the rounds of newspapers:

NORTH FORK OF HOLSTON, WASHINGTON Co., VA., July 24, 1867.

Hon. THAD. STEVENS—Dear Friend: I have been through the lower part of this county and State since I wrote you last. HAVE done a splendid business, have organized a force of the "Grand Army," which are recruiting rapidly. The objects as I explain them (privately of course) take amazingly, and I believe sir, if all our agents would follow my plan, we would be safe in allowing reconstruction immediately.

I tell them that our plan of confiscation is only to effect the large landholders—to compel them to divide their large bodies of land into, say fifty or one hundred sare farms. These farms to be sold to all classes of persons in the South only, at one to five dollars per acre.

In this explanation, we take in the most bitter ex-rebels, who, though they hate us, are lured by the hope of a farm. I am firmly convinced that if the ropes are worked properly, the bill would carry by a popular vote in the whole State by next July. I think something should be done to prevent the sale or transfer of lands here, otherwise if the thing should get out these d—d rich rebels would sell out their land in small lots at exorbitant prices, which would in some part counteract our scheme. But knowing you will do all things well, I will abide by your acts. Have heard from J. L. in S. C., and Will H. in Ga. Both are doing a good business. I will be in Washington in a short time.

Your obedient servant in a growing cause.

(Signed in cypher.)

The Mysterious Murder Case in Nashville.

The Banner of Wednesday says: "Esquire Mathews yesterday decided to investigate the case of Oliver, one of the alleged murderers of Byron; but Officer Carter, the prosecutor, failed to attend, whereupon Oliver was taxed with the costs. Subsequently, Carter took out a warrant for Oliver's re-arrest, but soon after returned the writ, and refused to swear to the facts therein contained. Oliver remained on the square until late in the afternoon, that policeman Carter might have no trouble in finding him and serving the warrant. Charged for grave nature have been lodged against Carter, and they will be investigated by the Police Committee to-day."

The 117th Colored Volunteer Infantry, which was enlisted in 1864, and which has been in Texas since that time, was mustered out Friday. The regiment was 900 strong, and was raised in Kentucky. About three hundred of them passed through Nashville Monday. They were stopped, so we are informed by the Banner, to sit just where they pleased on the train to Louisville, but General Duncan came down and restricted them to their own cars.

A Good Investment.
AN administrator of the estate of J. M. Lyles, deceased, I wish to dispose of either a half or an entire interest in two leases of the Mississippi State Penitentiary. Myrtle Grove's lease continues for thirteen years, under an act of the Legislature of the State. Myrtle Grove, referring to sell this lease, either in whole or in part, is to relieve myself of the responsibility of personal attention to the management of the business, which must, of course, center at Jackson, the State Capital, and to be myself constantly employed with it, requiring for its successful management a thorough practical knowledge of the business, which I do not possess. I am a merchant, have a family, and am PECUNIARILY located at Oxford, Miss., and am otherwise so situated that I cannot give the immense interest growing out of this lease that attention to which it deserves. There are at this time about two hundred convicts in the Penitentiary. For particulars address me at Oxford, Miss.

Our Southern Widows and Orphans
IT is the duty of every man who has means to cast in a mite to the support of those who have been left in a dependent condition by the loss of a dear husband or an affectionate father, who laid down their lives in the defence of our once glorious but now tarnished flag.
And being impressed with a sense of this duty, I have determined to contribute, say one-fourth of my net income for that purpose; and as my business is the Publishing and sale of the best class of Southern Literature, for which I have exclusive control of the States of Alabama and Tennessee, and the counties of Washington, Holmes, Attala, Winston and Noxubee, and all counties in the State of Mississippi, I am sure that all of the people of said section are willing and will contribute to aid in this good work. I will, therefore, offer to any and every civil character, within the above territory, as an interest in the county, and who will give a few hours of their time, energy and business capacities, such lucrative and respective districts for our standard Southern Historical Works. For such services we will allow a liberal commission on sales.
We wish the very best of citizens, and those who can and will take an active interest in our enterprise, to whom we refer to the following names, should they desire to make inquiries.

WANTED—THE PATENT AURORA OIL.—WE WANT men everywhere to study their own interest. The right to manufacture and sell the Patent Aurora Oil in a single county will make more money to the purchaser in three months than the largest farm in your State will make in a whole year. The Aurora Oil actually costs less than one half the price of coal oil, and its illuminating power of the Aurora Oil is as much superior to the coal oil as the coal oil is to a tallow candle, and is no more expensive than a tallow candle. Any lamp that will burn coal oil will burn the Aurora Oil. It does not smoke the chimney—it does not smell—it will not grease or stain the finest linen—not even white cloth. The material for its manufacture is inexhaustible. One man can make seventy-five barrels per day. No machinery required. We will pay your fare to and from the city of Memphis and both ways here, if we cannot prove all, and even more, than what we have stated. A single county is a small fortune to the man of enterprise, and the right to a State is untold wealth.

FRIDAY, : : : : : : : : AUGUST 30, 1867.

THE article from the National Intelligencer, which appears on the first page of this morning's AVALANCHE, is significant, because of the known intimate relation which that paper bears to the President. We do not think that Secretary SEWARD has any cause to complain of the article, for it concedes to him virtues and qualities which, if he really possessed them, should commend him to the favors of instead of proscription by the President. The known intimacy between the Intelligencer and President JOHNSON naturally suggests, after the appearance of such an article several inquiries. Will President JOHNSON remodel his Cabinet? Who is to succeed SEWARD? Is it the policy of the Administration to assume distinct and clearly defined features, which heretofore it has lacked? These are interesting questions that suggest themselves at this time, when the eyes of the whole country are turned to the President to know what will come next. The Cabinet, with the exception of STANTON, were understood to be his friends, and yet they do not seem to move on harmoniously. Mr. SEWARD went to Auburn and returned without one of those conciliar speeches with which he was wont to entertain his friends and neighbors, and opaquely foreshadow the plans of Government. The progress of reconstruction has been slow indeed, and beyond question, the political paning of his Cabinet has retarded energetic action on the part of the President. Having got rid of STANTON, it will be seen how far that obstinate officer clogged the wheels of Government, or if they will move on with freedom, now that he is gone. From the tone of the article in the intelligencer, one would be led to suppose that an entire change of policy had been resolved upon, in which event a change of Cabinet seems to be imperatively demanded. The supremacy of Radicalism, aided by the negro vote, has made rapid strides, and can only be checked by determined action. The elections of October and November may do much to strengthen the President in his newly formed resolution, which we hope and trust for the sake of the country he will omit no opportunity of carrying out in earnest and without delay. The villainous slanders put forth by the Radical press and stump speakers, as to disloyalty in the South, should not deter him from a generous effort at immediate restoration. Our people are patiently awaiting the "good time coming." They hope nothing, expect nothing from the Radicals, who seek only their own emolument and the perpetuation of their power, even to the ruin and destruction of the Government. If the President would win immortal honor, let him be a man, now; and assert the perogatives of his high office. If there be opposition to this liberal policy in his cabinet, let him not shrink from his duty. A JACKSON would never have tolerated for a moment dissensions in his cabinet. To be the nation's great benefactor—to restore the Government to its former equilibrium—to lift the weight that presses down the best minds in ten States, were indeed to deserve to be written down in history as "One of the few, the immortal men

That were not born to die."

THE conflicting reports from Washington have made it exceedingly hazardous to speculate upon any thing determined upon in that atmosphere. We are informed that after writing the abjurgatory letter to the President, General GRANT has become the executioner of SHERIDAN and SICKLES, and will doubtless decapitate POPE next, if he be considered above a mere blatherskite and of importance enough. We cannot understand a subordination so complete, as that manifested by GRANT, which "runs to do his master's bidding," and mutters like a displeased subaltern all the way. Nor can we reconcile the idea of Radicalism still swaying the Cabinet of President JOHNSON, when the President must by this time be informed of the patent fact that Radicalism and a constitutional government are as diametrically antagonistic as fire and water.

Active preparations are being made for the speedy departure of troops from India to rescue the British prisoners in Abyssinia. Sir Wm. Napier has been appointed to command the expedition. The first report stated that the prisoners were no longer in the power of King Herdinies, and strong hopes were entertained that Napier would succeed in releasing them in time to save their lives.

[NOTE.—Here follows the President's order assigning General Hancock to duty in place of General Sheridan, already published.—Reporter.]

II. In compliance with the foregoing instructions of the President of the United States, Major General P. H. Sheridan will, on receipt of this order, turn over his present command to Brevet Major Charles Griffin, the officer next in rank to himself, and proceed without delay to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and relieve Major General Hancock in command of the department of Missouri.

III. On being relieved by Major General Sheridan, Major General Hancock will proceed without delay to New Orleans, and assume command of the Fifth Military District and department composed of the States of Louisiana and Texas.

IV. Major General Geo. H. Thomas will continue in command of the Department of the Cumberland.

By command of Lieutenant General Grant.
E. D. TOWNSEND, A. A. G.

The Intelligencer of to-day feels authorized to state that the reports of personal differences between the President and General Grant are unfounded, but that paper is not correct in announcing that there is no conflict between them as to the prerogatives of each. On the contrary, it is shown that there is a very decided difference of views on legal questions affecting their respective powers and duties under the reconstruction acts.

DR. C. WILLIAMS'

Balsam of Wild Cherry and Wood Naptha.

IT has never been that "coughs are considered hopeless." It has proved itself the friend of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Whooping-Cough, Croup, Bronchitis, Bleeding of the Lungs, and that fell enemy of our race—Consumption. It relieves more promptly, and cures safer and effectually than any other preparation with which we are acquainted.

Dr. Rose, a distinguished physician of Macon, Georgia, says that "in every instance he has known this preparation to take and prompt remedy for all Pulmonary diseases, and takes pleasure in recommending it as a reliable medicine in all cases." Hammonds is extensively in his practice. Dr. P. M. Cohen, of Charleston, South Carolina, says that in the exercise of his profession and importing drug house of P. M. Cohen & Co., retailing and wholesaling, he has never met with a remedy that has the highest character in that city, and that he does it also gather in his family with invariable success.

GROVER & BAKER'S

CELEBRATED

ELASTIC STITCH & LOCK STITCH

SEWING MACHINES

Why the Grover & Baker Machine is Best.

1. It is more simple, durable, and less liable to derangements than others.

2. It sews from ordinary spools, and no rewinding of thread is necessary.

3. It sews with equal facility all fabrics, the most delicate and heaviest, and with all kinds of thread, silk, cotton or linen.

4. Its seam is so strong and elastic that it never breaks, even on linen.

5. It fastens both ends of the seam by its own operation.

6. Its seam, though as elastic as the finest sewing, is firm, and neither runs nor ravels in wear.

7. Its seam is more perfect and beautiful, and retains its plumpness and beauty after washing better than any other.

8. It sews from the finest cambric to leather, after proper instruction, without picking or cutting them.

9. Watching and placing the loops and the threads necessary in other machines, is unnecessary in this. The tension being once adjusted on the Grover & Baker machine, any amount of sewing may be done without change.

10. It makes beautiful embroidery when it any change of arrangement, simply by inserting threads of various sizes and colors for this purpose. It is the only machine that is thus adapted to every description.

WE will at once rebuild our warehouse, and will have it completed by the 15th of September, but by the first day of that month we will be ready to serve our friends.

The stands will be divided into five proof compartments by brick walls, and covered with tin roofs. Each compartment is for the use of a separate dealer, and those who may have occupied the same stand last season will be supplied with the same space, if they so desire.

We design establishing a Cotton Compress in connection with our warehouse, upon an adjacent lot, which will be ready by the 1st of October, or no rent. The proximity of our stands to cotton is such that we assure the handling of cotton at reduced rates. We can transfer cotton for shipment by river free of drayage. You can have your sale or purchase noted from our stands on all cotton sent for compression from other warehouses, which we will notice in our weekly cotton circular. Cotton sent here by drayage, saved, since it would be as easy for us to transfer it from the yard of the Compress to ours as to drive the dray the necessary way for transfer by dray.

FRENCH MEDICINES PREPARED BY GRIMAULT & COMPANY

Chemists to His Imperial Highness Prince Napoleon.

THESE different medicines represent the most recent medical discoveries, presented by the professors of chemistry and pharmacy of Paris. They must not be confounded with the secret or patent medicines of the day. Their position is a recommendation which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised in the public papers, as also to cure every possible disease, as they are applicable only to but a very few complaints. The most stringent laws exist in France with regard to the sale of medicinal preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicine, and have been proved efficacious, either in the hospitals or in the practice of the first medical men who are authorized by the government. They must be a guarantee for the excellency of manufacture of GRIMAULT & CO.'s medicines.

Dr. Loras' (Doctor of Medicine) Liquid Phosphate of Iron.

The newest and most esteemed medicine in cases of CHLOROSIS, PAINS IN THE STOMACH, DIFFICULT DIGESTION, DEBILITY, NERVOUSNESS, DISEASES OF THE HEART, DEFECTIVE AND POOR BLOOD. It is particularly to be recommended to females. It regulates the functions of the menses, and in DISEASES OF DEBILITATION, or when in a state of pregnancy, it is the most valuable of all tonics, as it is entirely free from alcohol, which is so injurious to the nerves, and is in fact the most valuable remedy of any kind of medicine whatsoever. It is the surest remedy of health for constitutions ruined by excesses in all warm and relaxing climates.

No More Cod Liver Oil—Grimault's Syrup of Iodized Horse Radish.

This medicine has been administered with the utmost success in the hospitals of Paris. It is a perfect remedy for COD LIVER OIL, and has been found most beneficial in DISEASES OF THE LIVER, SCROFULA, ARTHRITIC DISORDERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, SKIN, ULCERS, ERUPTIONS, TUMORS, RHEUMATISM, GOUT, LOSS OF APPETITE, ETC. It increases the constitution in rendering the blood healthy, and is the most powerful depurative known. It has also been applied with great success in DISEASES OF THE EYE. Further, it will be found to be of great benefit to young children subject to HUMORS and OBSTRUCTION OF THE GLANDS.

Consumption Cured—Grimault's Syrup of Hypophosphite of Lime.

This new medicine is considered to be a sovereign remedy in cases of PHTHISI

FRANKLIN JOB PRINTING OFFICE.—The proprietor of this large and popular establishment, S. C. Toof, Esq., has just returned from the East, where he has been sojourning for two or three months. During his absence he has bought of the largest and best furnished eastern printing offices, with a view to familiarise himself with the best and latest improvements. Being himself a practical printer of experience and excellent taste, he was admirably qualified to inform himself as to what additions to his own office would be most advantageous. He has returned in time to begin the busy season, in fine health, and with such appointments in addition to his previous large assortment of type, as to render his office one of the largest and most complete in the Mississippi valley, and to enable him to compete with any in the beautiful work executed, and the reasonable prices asked.

THE RECENT ATROCIOUS MURDER.

Some New Developments.

Very little is known of what the police are doing in reference to the murder of Dr. Ramsey; but it seems pretty evident that they have only blundered thus far, and it remains to be seen whether they will go on blundering, as they did in the case of General Rankhead, and as they have done in almost every case of murder.

It now comes out that false statements were purposely circulated in reference to the murder of Dr. Ramsey. It was reported that his coat, money, watch and boots were taken. It now is said that none of these were taken. It is difficult to understand the purpose of the stupidity that could put out such false reports. It is supposed that the murderer or murderers did not know what was taken and what not. It was reported there were circumstances strongly implicating the negro who found Dr. Ramsey's horse, and other circumstances implicating other parties. It now comes out that there was no truth in these stories, and that the parties arrested on suspicion were discharged. What good could come from such falsehoods? The murderers know exactly who is guilty and who is not. The arrest of a dozen innocent persons would not make them less careful to hide all traces of their guilt.

Why have not the police arrested the man to whom of all others suspicion should first attach? Has he not been arrested because he has been a particular friend of Radicals? What has that act to do with his guilt or innocence? Mr. Clark may be innocent. We sincerely hope he is; but if we are rightly informed the circumstances would justify the police in holding him until his innocence is demonstrated, because a motive for the murder could be surmised in his case; and if a motive for the murder can be fairly surmised in his case, the police should not suffer him to go at large, and for a blind arrest parties who cannot be supposed to have had a motive for the murder. Dr. Ramsey was not robbed. The plunder of his watch and money, boots and coat, was not the motive of his murder. It is alleged that he had been indicted a few days before his death, to put all his property in the hands of Clark. If he died, Clark would have his entire control. This fact alone would justify the closest scrutiny of Clark. But there are many other suspicious circumstances. Clark is the reputed fancy man of a woman who keeps a disreputable house on Madison street. He denied yesterday that Clark had been in the city since Monday, and said he was with Mr. Beaumont and the police hunting after the murderers or staying to make a hoss trade. Other parties assert that they have, since the day of the murder, seen Clark at home. Mr. Clark was the last man known to have been with Doctor Ramsey, and on the same yesterday suspicions of him were freely expressed by many persons. We know nothing of his character or antecedents. He was a frequent visitor of Doctor Ramsey. The suspicion against him may be harsh and unjust, but it should be cleared up. The fact of his relations to the female referred to should not prejudice his case. Many a man has improper associates but would not murder a friend. Mr. Clark should have every advantage of a fair investigation, but the public want the investigation.

Elson & Bros., 297 Main street, intending to go exclusively into the wholesale business, are selling out their entire retail stock at such low prices as will insure its rapid sale. EDUCATIONAL.—The Memphis Female Seminary will reopen on Monday next, September 2. This institution of learning is under the guardianship of a Board of Trustees, or Corporators, composed of several of our old and well known citizens, who have, in their official capacity, placed at the head of the faculty Mrs. Anna D. Halle, a lady so long known and highly esteemed as an Instructress, that commendation is superfluous. The rooms occupied by this School, and the location, are the most desirable in the city. See advertisement.

Once in a lifetime only is such a splendid chance offered to secure your wearing apparel, and at less than half the former prices. Elson's entire retail stock must be disposed of as they intend going into the wholesale business exclusively. Remember the place, 297 Main street, and stand not upon the order of going, but go at once and secure bargains. f.&t

MRS. DOYLE'S SELECT SCHOOL.—We desire to call attention to the fact that this admirable school, will commence a new session, at 209 Carroll avenue, on the second proximo. Mrs. Doyle is a Southern lady, highly educated, and has had experience in imparting instruction. She gave her boys to the care and we can never forget that. This is one of the schools where the Southern girl can be taught so that she will be suited to the cares and responsibilities of rearing statesmen—a something which there will be a wonderful degree of lacking if our Confederate sons on declining a repute as high as does in the last three-quarters of the last decade. We did not mean to play on the word "decayed," that seems suited to our promenture fall.

IT IS NOW THE MOST POPULAR MEDICINE.—And why? Because it is superior to all other preparations. We challenge the world to produce a medicine superior to "Dr. C. Williams', Pulmonic Balsam of Wild Cherry and Wood Naptha" for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Croup, Hooping Cough, Consumption, and all other affections of the Chest and Lungs. It never fails to afford the sufferer prompt and permanent relief. Read advertisement in another column.

WHAT CHEER?—The friends of Dale, Morrison & Co. are invited to attend a grand opening supper to-night at ten p.m., at the "What Cheer Saloon," corner of Madison and Second streets.

Hesperian Balm restores the complexion to the beautiful glow of health. It cures chaps, tan, freckles, sunburn, etc., and makes the skin delightfully fair and smooth. Price, only fifty cents. 7

A GENTLE WHISPER TO MOTHERS.—If unfortunately you have lost your own teeth by neglect or mismanagement, take care that your daughters do not suffer the same penalty from the same cause. See that they brush their teeth regularly and thoroughly with Sozodont, and thereby you will insure them sound and nevervisome sets as long as they live.

Needles, pins, hooks and eyes, buttons, etc., at half price, at Elson's, No. 297 Main street. fa&t

DR. C. WILLIAMS.—The advertisement of the celebrated remedy prepared by Dr. William will attract, as it deserves, attention. The Doctor, himself, is an old and experienced practitioner, and Memphis is favored in having him among her resident physicians. For the appreciation of the talents of this gentleman, with the intention, to stay here for the benefit of the health of our city, and the results that are sure to follow an active practice of his profession.

Remember this is the last chance to procure those great bargains at Elson's, No. 297 Main street, as they intend retiring from the retail business. fa&t

LA RUE'S MINSTRELS.—This excellent troupe made their last appearance last evening, closing their best season here with a magnificent audience and a most elegant entertainment. We commend them to our Southern friends among whom they will shortly sojourn. They are the very best minstrel troupe now traveling.

THE REMOVAL OF THE TOBACCO INSPECTOR.

Card from Collector Saunders.

An attempt has been made to make a little Radical capital out of the recent removal of the Tobacco Inspector. The following is Collector Saunders' response:

EDITOR POST: A communication in your issue of yesterday induces me to devote from a rule adopted and acted upon through fifteen years of editorial experience, which was to give no notice to correspondents who hide behind anonymous signatures; and in my reply I shall endeavor to be as liberal as your correspondent was malignant, and where he indulged in personalities, I will give facts and reasons.

The case of Dewey Tisdale on last Saturday I was made acquainted with the fact, for the first time, that Mr. Black, the Tobacco Inspector for the district, had been in the habit of inspecting and branding tobacco in bond, and allowing the parties to withdraw it before reporting the same to my office and paying the tax thereon. Such a custom unknown to the law, and was never adopted in my office. When I found Mr. Black had taken upon himself to do what the secretary of the Treasury would not do, and what I unanimously addressed, was a very polite note, asking him if such was the fact. He came into my office very promptly, and I informed him that I was highly displeased that the Collector, the chief of the revenue service in this district, should in the slightest degree violate the instructions given to him, which, if he had ever read, he must have seen. He said he understood and would not do so again, and I am certain I impressed some less on that will, in the future, enable him, whenever he detects a gentleman in office, to know how to properly behave.

The very prudent endeavors to give the late Inspector a very fair name. Most an ornamental for the Inspector of Revenue, I found Mr. Black violating the plain letter of the law which he had sworn to execute. If the Inspector failed to the Department causes his head to roll instantly from his shoulders.

The statements of your rock-spoken, Sam M. Black "was but carrying out the laws in a manner adopted by Tisdale almost," is without the slightest foundation in fact. Such a custom never existed, nor is it now ignorant of the advantages, perhaps even the existence of such a school. The physicians and assessors of the different districts of your county would, perhaps, have some little information concerning cases of lost or impaired vision that others possess it will be the duty of the Assessor, U. S. Commissioner of Revenue next appointed (Acts 1866 and 1867, page 10), to report to you concerning such cases.

The object of our institution is to enable the blind to support themselves, and I doubt not that you would willingly give us all the information you could if there were no law whatever on the subject.

Please make such inquiries as you may find convenient, and communicate to me the result. I am confident I will not only inquire concerning children, but in a year or two we expect to benefit most of those who are totally or partially blind, and over forty years old. In order that you may know what work we have to accomplish, any facts concerning those blind persons, not over forty years of age, would be acceptable. We have known instances of uncommon energy and industry, where persons so afflicted have learned a trade, at the age of fifty or fifty-five years.

THE MATHIAN ENTERTAINMENT TO-NIGHT.—Nothing could be more splendid than the entertainment to be afforded to the public to-night by the young Bards and Gentlemen composing the Mathian Society. Let every soul in the Greenlaw Opera House be filled to testify by their presence their appreciation of the talents of this gentlemanly association. The box office will be open from nine a. m. to twelve m., and from two to five p.m. to enable those who desire to secure seats. The well known orator Colonel R. W. Gantt, will deliver the opening address. A more select and rare entertainment is seldom afforded the Memphis public.

Dr. W. E. Rogers lost a pocket case yesterday, corner of Main and Union streets, which the finder will please return. Office, northwest corner of Main and Madison streets.

MUNICIPAL COURT.—Yesterday the cases set for trial were taken up and disposed of, and thereupon Court adjourned until Monday next.

Henry Neale had his pocket picked of thirty dollars, while boarding an omnibus or lying down somewhere on Wednesday night.

The heavy rains in Mississippi, on Wednesday night, did not extend to this city, but they seem to have cooled the air a good deal.

There is to be a big fishing excursion to Two-mile bayou on next Sunday. The negroes have a way their own, and everybody goes to go along.

Crowder & Co., whose cotton factory in the navy yard was burned down a short time since, are now putting up the machinery for a more extensive factory of the same kind, near the site of their former one.

A report was current yesterday that a conductor on one of the Poplar street railroad cars had suddenly dropped dead. It originated in a joke of the boys, who didn't consider a Twosie gentleman as exactly a live man.

On and after to-day the Northwestern railroad (Brownlow's road) will run trains regularly through from Nashville to Hickman, connecting with the Memphis and Ohio railroad regularly at Mc Kenzie.

Yesterday morning a gentleman riding a spirited mule on the Raleigh road, not far from where Dr. Ramsey was killed, was fired at by two negroes, but, thanks to the mule, effected his escape.

Our reliable old friend, Mr. Jay Johnson, of Wharfboat fame, arrived yesterday evening in the city, after a long journey, North, spent in perfecting his railroad and other business connections.

The Memphis College is likely to be provided with more complete chemical and philosophical apparatus than any school in the South-west. Two thousand dollars worth of such needful apparatus have just been provided for it.

Of the two hundred thousand dollars borrowed by the Memphis and Ohio railroad from the merchants of Memphis to get it running again, the whole but about twenty-eight thousand dollars has been paid back. This fact is most creditable to the management.

Postmaster Gist arrived home last evening. He has been a month recruiting in Ohio, and is in the best of health and spirits.

The negroes have, in Chelsea, had quite a war with the Scudders. Arties wanted vegetables and other things. The Scudders refused to the way. Angry words were made to accommodate the Scudders. The Scudders had several blacks arrested for such attempts. Now one of Scudders is held in $5,000 on the charge of robbing one of the negroes. Happy Chelsea.

August Bluefeld, Esq., formerly Alderman Bluefeld, and present by his friends as some 5 counties up in Ohio, Rosecrans's big Union Democrat, has returned from a grand tour to the North. He was one of the high cockalorums of the Druidical pow-wows in Chicago, and he has visited St. Paul, Milwaukee and many other cities, to learn their police system, their gas works, their sewer works and their and the quality of lager in each. He is in fine health and spirits.

A City Father who has recovered from the recent reconnoissance, says that how dubious now about having anything to do with the river. Currents at the surface ain't the same as currents down below, and currents at high water may have such a back action on currents at low water that if a breakwater is built it may turn out a very different affair, according to circumstances, and as the present excursion terminated satisfactorily, it is perhaps best to let well enough alone.

Henry Ferguson, Esq., an old and worthy member of the Young Men's Division, No. 63, Sons of Temperance, was buried yesterday with appropriate ceremonies of the Order. His funeral was attended by the largest concourse of friends, and members of the Temperance and Odd Fellows Societies. The deceased was an old resident of Memphis, and possessed through his genial and social qualities, a circle of friends who will long continue to revere his memory.

STATE INSTITUTION FOR THE BLIND.

Letter from its Superintendent.

The following communication was received by the Clerk of the County Court, a day or two since, from J. M. Sturtevant, Esq., Superintendent of an Institution for the Blind, at Nashville. Mr. League, believing this to be a matter of public interest, has kindly furnished us the letter for publication:

INSTITUTION FOR THE BLIND,
NASHVILLE, August 20, 1867.

Shelby County Clerk, Memphis, Tennessee:

DEAR SIR: The State Institution for the Blind, in this place, has been re-established. Board, washing, tuition, etc., are gratuitous, and it is in every way free to all. I am directed to inquire if you know of any blind children in your county, or any with sight so impaired and weak that they would not be able to obtain an education at an ordinary school. It is believed that a careful inquiry would result in the finding of at least two or three in your county who might be benefitted by our system of education, but who are now ignorant of the advantages, perhaps even the existence of such a school. The physicians and assessors of the different districts of your county would, perhaps, have some little information concerning cases of lost or impaired vision that others possess. It will be the duty of the Assessor, U. S. Commissioner of Revenue next appointed (Acts 1866 and 1867, page 10), to report to you concerning such cases.

The object of our institution is to enable the blind to support themselves, and I doubt not that you would willingly give us all the information you could if there were no law whatever on the subject.

Please make such inquiries as you may find convenient, and communicate to me the result. I am confident I will not only inquire concerning children, but in a year or two we expect to benefit most of those who are totally or partially blind, and over forty years old. In order that you may know what work we have to accomplish, any facts concerning those blind persons, not over forty years of age, would be acceptable. We have known instances of uncommon energy and industry, where persons so afflicted have learned a trade, at the age of fifty or fifty-five years.

J. M. STURTEVANT, Superintendent.

INTENSE RADICAL MEANNESS.

Shameful Neglect Illustrates Hypocrisy.

The sad attitude Dr. Ramsey, whose recent murder shocked so much this community, was a prominent member of the Loyal League, and an active, leading member of the Radical party. He had been a candidate of that party for office, and not having been embroiled in any of the factious quarrels of that gang of office seekers who constitute nearly the rag and roof of white Radicalism in Memphis, and being a man of unusually quiet, mild, social manners, he was the personal friend of every prominent Radical in the city. Hunter, Eaton, Shaw, Hudson and every other Radical politician professed friendship for Dr. Ramsey.

There was nothing about the murder that gave suspicion that politics had anything to do with it, and the Radical party contented itself with expressing horror at the atrocity. All the papers noticed the sad circumstance that the murdered man had left three little orphan children, and that his wife was about to be confined. All the Radicals knew that Dr. Ramsey was not a man of large means, but, with all their professions of humanity and high morality, not a single Radical in this great city called to comfort the bereaved widow. Not a single one called to see whether the orphan children had a bite to eat. Not a single Radical called to see the remains of their murdered political friend. Not one in this great city attended his funeral. The care and expense of burying Doctor Ramsey was borne by four ex-Confederate soldiers—men whose political rights are less than colored field hands, but whose conduct in burying decently the remains of an unfortunate, in caring for and comforting his widow and orphan children proves that they have larger hearts than the whole Radical party of this city.

Could anything be meaner than this Radical abandonment of a murdered Radical, and this Radical indifference to the welfare of his widow and orphaned children? Could anything be more noble than the conduct of these disfranchised Confederates? Avaunt, hypocrisy! Hide thy head in Radicalism!

RIVER NEWS.

AVALANCHE OFFICE,
FRIDAY, August 30.

BUSINESS—WEATHER—RIVERS.

Weather warm. The river is declining steadily, with nine feet scant to Cairo and eight feet from there to St. Louis. The Ohio is falling at Louisville—three and a half feet in the canal and four feet on the bars in the lower Ohio. The Arkansas is receding steadily, with thirty inches scant on the bars to Little Rock and twenty inches from there to Fort Smith. White river is declining steadily, with four and a half feet on the bars to Augusta.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Business on the river yesterday was dull, with but one boat receiving for Cincinnati and one for St. Louis. There was but one arrival up to eight p.m. An improvement of navigation in the Ohio would have a tendency to make business more brisk in river circles. In a few weeks the fancy staple will begin to come in, and by the middle of next month no doubt will open out with new life.

FROLICK ON THE WING.—We learn that friend Frolick of the Searcy (Arkansas) Record, has been negotiating for some days at Brownsville. His old Studebaker, gilded plan, and even the Journal therein him a "very pleasant gentleman." He is a popular gentleman at home, and some of his fair acquaintances there will wonder what keeps him away so long. Perhaps he doesn't intend to bring Mrs. Frolick along with him on his return.

Our Second street contemporary tried Ten mile bayou yesterday, but was not successful as an angler. The fish came near eating a Jonah of him, but there was not a whale among them. Verily, there is four whales to be caught, so we understand, to show him how, and he is to keep him on dry land.

The Wyndham House continues to gain in popularity. In every department there is the most complete arrangement, and the table cannot be excelled in the city. It has become the favorite with the people of Arkansas, and not a boat lands from either the Arkansas, White or St. Francis rivers but brings guests to the Wyndham. The fine business qualifications of its generous hearted proprietor are winning for his hotel "golden opinions."

The new boat, named the Governor W. H. Allen, building at Lodiville, for Captain Sinclair, for the New Orleans and Red river trade, was successfully launched on Wednesday evening.

Captain John Elliott left last evening on the train for Cairo to take charge of his fine packet, the Des Arc, and take her to St. Louis and load for White river. She is advertised to leave on the 15th Ultimo.

The news reached yesterday at a Magistrate's Court, when Jack Wyatt was fined $100 and costs for assault and battery, that a lot of iron ties had been landed at one of the wharfboats, and had been counted by the wharf-boat clerk. Immediately afterward the owner of drays that did the hauling for the house to which the ties were consigned was informed that they were there in such a number, and he hauled them away, giving another in exchange for only they should be received. It was pleaded that the ties had never been received, and that as some of them were missing, the wharf-boat was responsible. The suit was brought for freight and charges, and judgment was pronounced in favor of defendant, it being held that the receipt of the dray-man was not a delivery. We have not heard if the defendant intends to claim the value of the missing ties, as the legitimate result of the suit. An appeal was taken from the court below.

The Starlight arrived from Cincinnati last night, at nine p.m.

The Olive Branch, Captain Jones in command, will leave at five p.m., for Cairo and St. Louis.

The Celeste has laid up to repair and repaint.

The Mississippi, Captain Wm. Thompson, leaves to-day at five p.m. for New Orleans.

The Henry M. Shreve, Captain Carter, leaves this evening at five o'clock for St. Louis.

The Rubicon will leave tomorrow at five p.m., for Vicksburg and the bends.

The Starlight, which has been out from Cincinnati fifteen days, on a voyage bound for this harbor, will be found in port this morning, and leaves to-morrow evening for Cincinnati.

The Ozark, in command of the Pioneer of the Backwoods, Captain Wm. Rowlen, will be at the levee to-morrow to receive for the Arkansas, and will leave on Tuesday. The Ozark is a No. 1 light draught packet.

Captain Larry Harmstad received a dispatch from Little Rock yesterday, saying the Arkansas was sailing, with only twenty inches water in the channel above that point, and thirty inches from there to the mouth.

The Minnesota cleared for Cincinnati, last evening, with seven hundred and thirty bales o' cotton.

"What proof have we that Noah navigated an American river? Because he was on the ARK at sea" (Arkansas).

The Rowena, Captain Davis, is the regular Saturday White river mail packet. She will be at the wharf to-day to receive freight and passengers. Half fare rates for the round trip to the Tennessee, which comes out at Augusta on the Mississippi, and at Searcy on the White, can be had on the Rowena. This will be a favorable opportunity for all wishing a cheap and pleasant excursion trip.

Steamboat racing on the Hudson is in full blast. Interested husbands send their wives up the river, hoping that an accident may occur.

The Paducah Herald of Wednesday says the Starlight left that port on Tuesday, for Memphis, having left Cincinnati sometime since Christmas. She walked down most of the way on spars. We should say as a "starlet" she is a success.

The Belle St. Louis left for St. Louis last evening, with a fair passenger trip.

The City of Cairo is the regular Saturday St. Louis packet.

Why are railroad companies like laundresses? Because they have ironed the whole country and sometimes do a little mangling.

A club boat has been built at New Albany which is so nicely balanced that the powers are obliged to be particular in parting their hair down the middle, to keep their balance!

Since the 1st of January, 1867, there have been seventy-six steamboat accidents on the Western and Southern waters. Of these, one was by grounding, nineteen by fire, six by explosion and fifty-one by sinking. Of the sunken boats, sixteen were raised and are now running; three of the exploded boats and one of the burnt were repaired, and are now engaged in their usual traffic, leaving a total loss of fifty-six steamers.

The Celeste arrived yesterday from the Arkansas with a light trip. She lays up for a while, owing to dull times and the low stage of water in the Arkansas. She reports the river falling with only thirty inches water on Ragland's bar. The channel is cutting very slow, and in consequence navigation in that stream is precarious.

The Ozark, Captain Rowland's light draught packet, will ply in the Memphis and Pine Bluff trade in place of the Celeste. The Ozark left Little Rock on Wednesday for Memphis, and will probably be found at the wharf to-morrow morning.

Captain Fy. Lee, well known in these parts as the popular commander of the defunct Vicksburg packet, the Dr. Vernon has taken command of the St. Louis and Keokuk packet, the Harry Johnson. We wonder whether Captain Fy. still persists in singing his song of the "Pumpkin Vine" and "Umbrella Rag."

The St. Louis Democrat of Wednesday has the following:

At five last evening, black clouds were spread over the sky; clouds of dust almost as black as night filled the air, and all nature seemed to be in a state of confusion. Then, suddenly, the long looked for rain came down in torrents, and was the salvation of the year. The increasing rains, their coolness and freshness have had a most refreshing influence. Every boat coming in has all the freight it wants on the levee. The amount is limited only by the capacity of vans. The rivers are steadily falling. A boat came down the Missouri drawing eight feet four inches, and actually plowed her way through half a foot of sand, there being but four and a half feet in the channel. The navigation of the Illinois is almost one night of it. The reconstructed Lizzie Gill came off Daggett & Morse's docks yesterday morning. The Magenta went on. She looks like a fleet, and is a better boat than ever before. The Missouri is expected at the wharf on Sunday, and to leave for New Orleans on Tuesday. The Julia, the fastest wheel steamer Last Chance, bound from this port to Fort Union, with supplies for the Indians, sunk above Yankton. Cargo badly damaged. The boat was raised, she returned to Yankton, discharged damaged portion of cargo, came to care of Major F. H. Conger, and repaired for trip. The goods were insured in the agencies of Messrs. Howe and Capen, of St. Louis.

WASHINGTON, August 29.—Grant has issued the order relieving Sickles from the command of the Third Military District and assigned General Canby thereto. It was expected the order directing Hancock to proceed immediately to New Orleans and relieve Sheridan would be issued yesterday afternoon, but up to three o'clock it had not been promulgated. Upon relieving that officer the original order No. 1 assigning him to the command of the Fifth District will be revived.

There is no prospect of the immediate retirement of any member of the Cabinet. The relations of all of them with the President continue agreeable. The differences between Grant and the President have been amicably adjusted.

EXCITING DUEL AT NEW ORLEANS.

Magnanimous Conduct of One of the Principals.

The New Orleans Crescent of Tuesday says: The quiet precincts of the Metairie Ridge, in the neighborhood of Half-Way House, and which have become classically bloody ground from the many hostile meetings that have taken place there, were again, yesterday morning, the scene of a duel between two gentlemen of this city—Mr. W., a native creole, and Mr. R., a brother quill, of French birth, and well known here by his charming chronicles that have appeared in one of the French weeklies. The cause of the rencounter was very slight and entirely of a personal character, no blows having been exchanged. For some reason, however, it was found impracticable to conciliate matters, and as the sun rose, Sunday morning, the two antagonists, with their respective seconds and surgeons, met at the above mentioned place, to settle the difficulty with deadly pistols.

The position in which the principals were placed was unusual; two lines were staked out parallel with each other, and five paces apart. There were three stakes in each line, one at each end and one at the middle. The two end stakes on each line were twenty paces apart. One principal was on the south end of his line, the other at the north of his. When thus in position they were diagonally opposite, and the conditions were that at the word, they were to fire as they stood or on marching up to the middle stake. The object of this arrangement was a humane one, reflecting great credit upon the seconds, and made in order to prevent a shot being fired breast to breast. As the words "Fire!—one two, three," were given, a thrill of anguish went through the spectators, whose nervousness was equalled only by the cool placidity of the combatants. First one step forward was made by one party, with fore-arm raised and aiming at his antagonist, who stepped forward also one step. A second and a third step were made by the first party quickly followed by the other. A pistol shot was heard, and ascertained to be from the first party who, believing that the second party had fired also, retired one step after offering his weapon to his second; but a call from the opposite seconds to "stand your ground," was answered by a step forward to resume the original position by the first party. Here, for a few seconds, the anxiety was intense, and every heart beat at a fearful speed, as the second party advanced to the middle stake, where, with a commendable courage and a noble impulse, raising his pistol overhead, he fired in space; then crossing over the line he extended his hand to his whilom enemy, who grasped it, and acknowledged in feeling terms the generosity of his adversary, in whose hands his life had rested. The affair created no little excitement in the city, and all interested have our hearty congratulations upon its successful issues, for the first shot proved to have missed its mark, and the parties are all now on the best terms of friendship and esteem.

The Island of Samana.

A day or two since, the telegraph announced that an agent of the Dominican Government was en route to Washington, for the purpose of consummating the cession of this island to the United States. Samana is on the northeast coast of St. Domingo, stretching from west to east thirty-two miles. It is eleven miles (average) in greatest breadth, and is terminated at the east end by Cape Samana. Its highest land, which is Sugar Loaf Hill, is 1,586 feet above the level of the sea, and the Devil's Hill, is 1,300 feet. There formerly existed a water communication through its west end, separating it from the island of Hayti, which, though now filled up, could be easily re-opened, so that what was formerly an island is now a peninsula. Its soil is extremely fertile, and to a great extent is covered with timber suited to ship building and cabinet work. It contains copper, gold and bituminous coal. The population in 1861 was 1,781. It is for its geographical position and magnificent harbor that this acquisition has been regarded as chiefly desirable, and for which our Government has been negotiating for many years to acquire it. A standard geographical work says that Samana Bay is situated on the south side of the Peninsula of Samana, is about forty-three miles in length east to west, by about eight miles broad. At its west end it receives the Yuna, the largest river in the Dominican Republic. It forms one of the finest harbors in the world, and may be regarded as a most important maritime position in reference to the trade of the Gulf of Mexico, and the intercoceanic routes across Central America, both in a commercial and military point of view.
